Campbell, Winnipeg, counsel for the order of Railway Telegraphers. Four legal advisors to the railway are led by A. K. Dyar, K.C., commission counsel for the CNR. Others are D. O. Owen, K.C., regional counsel for the CNR, Winnipeg, and W. Boyd, Winnipeg. A fourth counsel is due to arrive, Wednesday.

WATCHING BRIEFS

Holding watching briefs are Major W. J. McNeill, I.D., senior judge advocate general, Western Army Command, and S. S. Listerman, Brotherhood of Railway Engineers.

Summing up evidence to be presented to the court, Mr. Kerr said the dispatcher who issued the orders to the trooper, and the two operators who received the orders would be called to give evidence.

CNR officials present include F. S. Martin, director of engineering, Frank Reefe, general manager of the western region, R. McMillan, vice-president, H. C. Gossel, general manager of car service, and H. F. Finerman, chief electrical engineer.

Mr. Kerr is conducting the questioning in the inquiry, which is expected to run for three days. Twenty witnesses are expected to take the stand during the probe.

BOARD MAKEUP

Of the inquiry board are chief commissioner Mr. Justice M. R. Archibald, chairman; Armand Byrd, deputy chief commissioner, and F. M. McPherson, commissioner.

The attorney-general's department of British Columbia, in which province the wreck occurred, is represented by W. A. Archibald. The Alberta attorney-general's department representative is W. A. Archibald.

Evidence on the condition of communications when the orders were telephoned would also be heard, he said.

Damage to the trains and cars could also be described in the report and condition, he said; also, relief measures taken after the wreck.

Why the trains were made up as they were and where they were telephoned would also be heard, Mr. Kerr told the court, as well as reports from RCMP investigators and photographs from the wreck scene.

WITNESS DESCRIPTION

Head office officials of the railway would be called to describe locomotive signals and their present installation and the nature of the railway equipment, including whether the wrecked cars were steel or "open-top."

Officials would also be heard on the use of radio in controlling train movements, Mr. Kerr stated, and the operating rules of the railway.

Earlier, the board chairman in his opening address had expressed sympathy for those injured in the wreck and the survivors of those killed.

He asked that all persons who felt they could throw light on the wreck to bring their evidence to Mr. Kerr.

He said the board's investigation of the wreck had been underway since the day of the tragic accident.

MAP DISPLAYED

A large map of the scene where the two giant locomotives crashed on a lonely mountain curve was prominently displayed in the open courtrooms where the hearing is being held.

John Arthur Leslie, assistant division engineer at Kamloops told of his investigation at the scene of the wreck and presented a detailed scale drawing of track alignment and curves covering the area.

He said the collision occurred on a 20-degree curve seven telegraph pole lengths east of the east switch at Canoe River siding.

He estimated the two trains would be 550 feet apart when the engine crew could first see each other. There would be about 275 feet to each side of the point of impact where the trains would be slightly after the impact, he said.

Mr. Leslie later said: "The extra passenger train was behind a hill. No smoke or anything else that would serve as a warning would be visible to the east-bound passenger train."

ANGLE OF VISION

"They, (the engineers) would be able to both look at exactly the same time to see each other in the 500 feet due to the angle of vision possible on the curve."

Leslie said he fixed the point of impact by the position of the tender of engine No. 328 of the troop train. He had estimated this tender had moved only slightly after the impact.

The troop train would be going up a 2.8 per cent grade at the time of the wreck.

He said the main wreckage was compressed in an area about 130 feet long, while debris and debris extended for about 200 feet.

Cpl. T. B. Richards of the RCMP in Edmonton exhibited about 50 photographs taken at the scene of the wreck.

SLIM IDENTIFICATION
He said that the body of engineer Jack Simon of the troop train cars was identified by a key ring and disk.

Firmen Olechuk was identified by books, a purse and a ring found on the remains. He was firmen on the passenger train.

Interprints only identified Firmen Henry Frankovich of the troop trains through his service in the Canadian army in the last war. No positive identification has yet been made of the remains of the trooper, but a body was found in the troop train extra, Cpl. Richards said.

Conductor John Albert Malnize, who was in charge of troop train passenger extra 3338, told the board he had been a conductor since 1900 and had passed all examinations and tests required by the railway.

He would out of Jasper for 10 years. He said he knew engineer Harry Church for six or seven years and considered him "a very competent man."

BRAKES EFFICIENT

Brake tests at Jasper and running tests after leaving there showed the brakes were operating efficiently, he said.

He said his train consisted of the engine, a baggage car, 10 coaches and a caboose.

Watches of train crew members had not varied more than 15 seconds at Jasper.

He told counsel his train stopped at Red Pass Junction at 9:10 on the day of the wreck.

He had received several orders from operator A. J. Atherton at Red Pass.

Included was train order No. 248 which read as follows: "Passenger Extra 3338 (the troop train) to proceed on the main line 6:00 and No. 4, 6:07, Gossel."

Conductor Malnize said he had read the orders back to operator Atherton and then had repeated them to the members of his train and where his train left Red Pass.

Evidence that there was no block signal system on the single track where the collision occurred.

The conductor said order No. 248 was a "passenger order" and that the eastbound passenger No. 2 was a superior train.

NO 248 IN EFFECT

Mr. Malnize said No. 248 was in effect when the collision occurred. He said he had fulfilled all the orders of the operator.

Under cross-examination Malnize said he understood the order to meet the two passengers at Gossel was to keep up "going against the operator."

Malnize said he and "Engineer Church" had discussed the orders at Red Pass and thought there would be further orders waiting at two stations between there and Gossel, the meet point.

He said the collision occurred at the end of his testimony if there was anything in his opinion to indicate the orders were improperly issued, he answered, "No."

OMISSION IMPORTANT

He said the omission of the word "at" from the orders "didn't make any difference."

The witness said he concluded there was no running late because the meet time at Gossel was later than the passenger's scheduled time to bring their evidence to Mr. Kerr.

He said the board's investigation of the wreck had been underway since the day of the tragic accident.

Four Persons Die In Mishaps

severe chest injuries suffered when he was rammed against the steering wheel.

Coroner Dr. M. A. R. Young of Lamont hospital said evidence indicated that the Weatherall car skidded on the train tracks at the top of a short rise and was unable to move from the path of the on-rushing train in time.

RETURNING TO CITY

Weatherall is taking post-graduate work at University hospital and had driven his wife, a Lamont hospital attendant, back to Lamont from a visit to Edmonton.

Mrs. Johnston and Miss Ramsey, who were Lamont hospital employees, were accompanying him back to Edmonton to do Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Johnston of Lamont, housekeeper at the hospital, is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Leroy Carter of Lamont and by a second married daughter in Australia.

Miss Ramsey, hospital business office employee, has a sister at Kinross.

Operator of the truck, William Porkey, 1100-145 street, told police he attempted to halt the heavy truck when it was on the road, only a few feet in front of him.

He was struck by the shovel of the wrecker in front of him.

A preliminary inquest will be held here this afternoon, Dr. M. M. Zamboni, provincial coroner, announced.

The dead woman is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Sam McCamague, Clover Bar.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday from Howard and McBride with burial at Clover Bar.

John P. Walker died and a companion is in High River hospital following a fatal accident on the highway Sunday afternoon.

Police said the car left the road six miles south of High River and crashed into the ditch.

Companion of Walker, John Learned of Calgary, was injured. Both men were employees of Fred Mannix Company Limited and were returning from Claresholm to Calgary when the accident occurred.

An inquest will be held by Dr. R. M. Paul of High River. The wrecker is survived by a wife and child in Calgary.

WORKING ON TRUCK
In another week-end accident, George Truman, 1218-10 street, was struck by a car as he worked over his stalled truck at 87 street and 111 avenue early Sunday morning.

Truman had left his car on 111 avenue and had gone to a garage to obtain alcohol to clear a frozen gas line.

Returning to the vehicle, he was working on the engine of the truck when he saw a car approaching. He attempted to jump clear of the truck, but was caught in front of the vehicle when it was struck by the car in the rear.

A wheel of the truck passed over his leg.

Driver of the auto, Ronald Park, 11347-50 street, said he did not see the parked truck until the car was operating east on 111 at 12:15 a.m.

The couple left Nov. 4 to locate a woodworking site near Lake Athabasca, east of Flin Flon. They had ample clothing and supplies, but were expected to return within a few days.

They left a four-month-old baby and a four-year-old son with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Olette of Flin Flon, parents of Mrs. Johnson.

Mobs Battle Police Over Dutch Child

British troops with bayonets fixed into the riot-streets of Singapore tonight to battle fanatical mobs, stirred up to frenzy by the court fight between a Dutch mother and a Malay nurse for custody of a white child.

Hundreds of soldiers in trucks and on foot, battled the downtown mobs where the mobs were battling police, attacking Europeans and overturning and burning automobiles.

About 5,000 Malaysians stormed for three hours at the Supreme Court building where a hearing was under way on an appeal to return the 15-year-old child, Maria Bertha Herthoff, to her Malay foster mother and her Moslem schoolteacher husband.

TOWARD CONVENT
Mrs. Herthoff, 34, a Dutch schoolteacher, fled toward the convent "if it took all night."

After night-fall, the mobs still were threatening stones and bottles, beating up Europeans, especially Dutch.

Shots were fired and tear gas bombs hurled as police battled to break the mobs.

Thousands of Moslems flocked to the Sultan Mosque where priests told them the court decision giving custody of Bertha to her Dutch mother affronted and violated the Mohammedan religion.

Authorities feared the religious outbreak, at a time when the effort to end it in a ferment, would gravely endanger security and offer an opportunity for Communist sabotage.

avenue was about 20 feet away from the truck.

Park's car went into a skid when he tried to stop, and crashed into the truck.

Truman was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital by city ambulance.

HIT-AND-RUN
Five youths fled from the scene of an accident when their stolen car collided with another driven by David Davis, 12421-87 street, early Sunday morning.

Davis, his wife and six-month-old son sustained superficial injuries in the crash.

David said the stolen car sped toward him, travelling west, as he was approaching the intersection at 87 street and 111 avenue.

No attempt was made to stop the stolen car, he claimed, and the vehicle rammed into his car.

Five juveniles who were in the stolen car fled immediately after the crash and police were unable to apprehend them.

The car had been stolen from Mrs. Edmonston Saturday, police said.

GIRL INJURED
An accident at 116 street and 87 avenue Sunday morning sent a girl to hospital following a collision between two cars on the key street.

Suffered a fractured skull, a fractured neck and arm bruises when the father's car was in collision with a car operated by Dr. W. N. Baronfeather, 890-119 street, at 12:15 a.m.

Settlement Looms In Rail Dispute

Mr. Justice Kellock Putting Last Touches On Agreement

By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, Dec. 11.—(CP)—Final settlement terms in the multi-million-dollar railway wage dispute will be laid down this week, probably Wednesday or Thursday.

The settlement now is being whittled into final shape by Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada, named by the government to resolve points at issue in the dispute that touched off last August's six-day general rail strike.

Under government legislation that ended the walkout his terms on the disputed matters—chiefly the amount of a wage increase and the effective date for the 40-hour week—must be accepted by the railways and the unions representing 340,000 men.

But while his decisions will wrap up the dispute, they will not end to that particular controversy, it will have repercussions in two other directions:

ADDITIONAL COSTS
1. The railways are expected to apply almost immediately for a general freight-rate increase covering the additional wage costs.

2. Negotiations on wage increases sought by about 40,000 other rail employees will be resumed, with the Kellock findings having some influence on the discussions.

This group consists of the men in the running trades—those who actually operate the trains. They were not on strike in last summer's walkout of the non-operating employees.

The running trades brotherhoods are seeking a wage increase of 20 cents an hour. Negotiations have been under way for months, but they have been suspended recently pending the outcome of Mr. Justice Kellock's inquiry.

COST ESTIMATED
If the non-operating unions get all they want, the railways estimate that would cost them $10,000,000 a year. That is the equivalent of the yield from a rate increase of about 1.5 per cent.

The 40-hour week plus the four cents an hour increase given the men in the government's voluntary settlement in August would cost an estimated $97,000,000, or about 1.5 per cent.

RCAP Probe Of Parachute Cloth Goes On
The R.C.A.P. today reported no developments in its investigation why a piece of fabric, similar to parachute silk, happened to be lodged in a tree-top near Edmonton.

A three-man para-rescue team went into the region Saturday with three days' rations and has not reported back. They were led to the spot, 12 miles northeast of Edmonton, by John Heston of Edmonton, who found the piece of fabric while hunting.

The R.C.A.P. said it has no theory on the origin of the fabric, colored international orange.

Prominent Citizen Dies Here at 70

Ex-Magistrate, Politician
Lt.-Col. G. B. McLeod Passes

Lt. Col. George B. McLeod, prominent figure in political circles and one-time police magistrate here, died at his home yesterday.

Lt.-Col. McLeod was born in Guelph, Ont., and there received his education. He moved to Edmonton in 1902 and has lived here since.

With a brother-in-law he operated a hardware business for many years and later a real estate firm up until the time of the last war.

He joined the army in 1914 with the 21st Battalion, later was made second-in-command of the 21st Battalion, and in June, 1915, was directed to organize the 3rd Battalion and proceeded to England in the spring of 1916.

BACK TO CANADA

In 1915 he was involved back to Canada serving in France with the British 3rd Corps.

After his return from the war he was appointed police magistrate, a position he held for 12 years following.

For many years he has been active in the Liberal Party, being president of the Young Men's Liberal Club of South Edmonton, Ont., when Hon. Hugh Guthrie was first elected to the House of Commons, and president of the Liberal Association for a number of years.

He assisted in the organization of the Young Men's Liberal Club in Edmonton in 1905, of which he became first president in 1906.

For the 24 hours they fought one of the bloodiest battles of the Korean war.

I was in Koto when they came in. It was a gruesome sight—wounded men, their blood frozen to their skin; their clothes stiff with ice; grotesque dead men lying across trails, and stretchers lying men stumbling along, grimacing from frostbite, using their rifles as crutches.

During the early 1940's he worked with the Farmers' Credit Review Board and was manager of the Edmonton City Bakery up until 1945, when he retired.

Lt.-Col. McLeod, as a Mason, was a first master of the Ivanhoe Lodge and past supreme grandmaster of the Knights Templars of Canada.

Fightingist Retreat Born As Marine 'Guts' Win Out

MacBeth flew to Koto last week and stayed, despite his lack of sufficient winter clothing. He is a Royal Canadian Navy veteran of bitter North Atlantic convoy duty during the Second World War.)

By Jack MacBeth

WITH U.S. MARINES WITHDRAWING FROM CHANGJIN RESERVOIR, Korea, Dec. 11—(AP)—American Marines walked out of 12 days of freezing hell today, full of fight after a gory nightmare of death in Korea's icy mountains.

The U.S. 1st Marine Division was retreating slowly into the north-eastern Korean plains of Hamhung. The men's eyes and bearded faces, their tattered pants and the strange, careless way they carried their rifles, showed the strain.

These thousands of Leathernecks' encirclement into one of the fiercest retreats in military history. It was the longest pullback in Marine history—nearly 50 tortuous miles.

They broke out of a death trap sprung by many thousands of Red Chinese and Koreans and covered what looked like almost certain disaster into a moral triumph, if not a military victory.

I watched the retreat.

24-Hour Whitefishing Season Starts Today

All-time record number of fishermen are expected at Lake Wabamun today for a 24-hour open season on whitefish.

Provincial fisheries branch officials say warm sunny weather, coupled with prospects for a good price for the fish catch, may result in bettering the 1948 record, when nearly 1,300 fishermen dropped their nets in the lake in one day.

According to provincial limits, a total of 250,000 pounds of whitefish can be taken from the lake today.

Fishermen began dropping their nets through the ice at 8 a.m. today. They must raise them before noon tomorrow.

IMMEDIATE SALE

Buying stations will be set up at Wabamun, Seba Beach and Kapuskasing, so that the catch can be sold as soon as it is taken from the lake.

Prices are expected to be high, as other whitefish lakes in the area are closed to fishermen. Demand for Alberta whitefish is steady, with much of the marketable supply being shipped to New York and other United States centers.

During the one-day open season at Wabamun, prices jumped from 20 cents to 45 cents a pound as a result of stiff competition among the fish buyers.

Today also marks the opening of the winter fishing season at Muriel Lake. Buck Lake fishing will open Jan. 4.

Barrhead Plans Public Library

McKerracher Estate Donation Launches New Community Plan

BARRHEAD, Dec. 11—Barrhead will have a public library in the near future.

This was decided at a meeting of representatives from the town and other districts recently. Committee consisting of William Suberland, chairman, M. R. Hardy, secretary-treasurer, and E. C. Sebelin, convener of purchasing committee, was formed.

The new library will bear the name of The Barrhead Community Library.

DONATION GIVEN
A very generous bequest from the estate of the late John W. McKerracher made this move possible, and the initial supply of books will be purchased from that source. A suitable plaque will be put on the wall in recognition of this gift, while each book will have a plate installed on the front page to remind readers of the generous benefactor.

Present plans call for the library to be installed in the banquet room of the Community Centre. This building is located at Barrhead School and it will be easy for students to obtain reading material.

SKATERS WORRIED BY ICE SHORTAGE

HANNA, Dec. 11—Junior hockey teams are looking for ice.

They have been practicing on aloughs and lakes and the old rink has to be repaired and made to do for this winter. The town is operating the rink this season and will make necessary repairs.

Flooding began last week but a severe shortage of water for consumers adds to the difficulty of getting the rink in condition.

Guenard Heads Stampeder Ass'n

HARDISTY, Dec. 11 — Peter Guenard was re-elected president of Hardisty Stampeder Association at their annual meeting held recently.

Next year's Hardisty Stampede will be held June 15 and 16. It is planned to make it bigger and better than previous years.

FIRE ENGINE was delivered from eastern Canada to Barrhead recently. Firemen Jose Clapp, chief, Ross Baker, R. Rendall, Glad Robinson and Ed Yull make up team to combat any serious fire in district.

Laddies Sporting Glenarry Bonnets
BARRHEAD, Dec. 11—Laddies decked out in Glenarry Bonnets, but minus the bill of Auld Scotch, are now seen on the streets of Barrhead in ever increasing numbers.

The reason is that Curling is now underway. Barrhead, a strong curling town has four sheets of ice, but plans will have to be made to build an addition if all enthusiasts are to be accommodated.

In the first week 24 male rinks, 12 ladies and school teams took the ice, but with great oil activity in the area, United Geophysical and Canadian Superior Oil of California along with several others want to participate. With a farmers bonspiel proving a huge success last year more and more farm rinks want to have a try at the game.

Party Planned
BARRHEAD, Dec. 11 — Kinmen's Club of Barrhead will again sponsor a Christmas party for the children of the district.

Scheduled to take place from 2 to 4 p.m. Dec. 16 on a vacant lot on Main Street, Kinmen members doing the work so every child in Barrhead and surrounding district will be invited. If last year's party was any gauge, a huge band of happy youngsters should take in the proceedings, and see Santa Claus in action.

Longden Pilots Noor to Win

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Noor raced to victory in the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup Saturday and convinced his arch rival, Hill Prince, and 50,000 roaring fans that he is the finest handicapper horse in the United States this year.

ALSO SMITTEN

Bev Bentley Glitter Guy

ICE-CHIPS: The three starmen, Bentley, Bentley and Bentley, were seriously beaten by SMITTEN and ROY HEMKINER. Bentley's top save of the night may have been the one he pulled on Hemkiner in the last period.

The Flyer winger cut loose a partially screened drive from 20 feet that looked like money in the bank. However Bentley made a great block with his left leg, kicking high and far to get to the shot.

Smitten, one of the best skaters in the league, turned in a top effort. He spent a lot of the time picking himself up off the ice, the way the Caps laid it on with elbows and the body.

But while on his pins the south side product was pretty impressive, going and coming.

Hemkiner's pair of goals, notched within 28 seconds of each other in the middle session, put the Caps on their hunkers for keeps.

MAC COLVILLE, operating on the Flyer defence, was getting in good shape. Besides shaking many a teammate loose with his accurate passing, the outline New York Ranger tossed in a little whiffing, fancy-dance stuff to elude would-be checks.

DOUG ANDERSON put in a blistering time of it. He traded quick passes with Gord Stassen on several occasions, also came within a punch of fatuities as he and JOHNNY HARMES threw off gloves at one stage of the second period and threw a 10-dollar hook in his direction.

AB MCDUGALL was a passer, the Regina smoothie turning in his poorest performance at the Gardens in a long time. . . Mac Colville hit the point on one shot . . . At the other end Cape playing coach GEORGE ALLEN rattled several "lucky" drives off the back end.

STEVE LUTSKO, back in action due to ELMER KRELLER's recent injury, tried hard. He led Bentley several times from close range, as what Flyer didn't?

DOUG LANE packed the puck in good style. . . Hemkiner, for all that he turned in a generally good effort, was the goal on Regina's first goal. He lost the puck to POPEIN, who then tried to break front and easily beat RAY FREDEK.

COLIN KILBURN's goal in the third period, off a short relay from RAY BARRY, was the best of the night. The inmates passed their way through the Cap defence (1), with Kilburn trying the puck into the caps for the payoff. Barry's puckhandling was high class.

Flyer's rookie winger LLOYD FERUSON isn't getting loose as often as he did earlier in the season. . . Why there aren't more levers leaved in the WHCF, for sloppy defensive work remains a mystery. . . For instance Cape's SANDY SANDALACK had HEMKINER herded into the corner during one exchange, only to suffer the Flyer winger and wander off aimlessly in the general direction of North Edmonton.

Hemkiner promptly worked his FAN FARE

He countered his Meteor critics further with "If Strother was disappointed with the refereeing Saturday, I was equally disappointed with the playing."

Bentley Terrific Despite Flyer Win

By STAN MOHR (Sports Editor)
It was manager Cliff Ehrlke talking, just minutes after his Regina Caps had been jammed-up 7-2 by Flyers at the Gardens Saturday night in a rugged Western Canada Hockey league offering.

"That Bev Bentley played a great game of goal for us. But, heck, I'm afraid he's going to get discounted."

"Discouraged" is it. More like killed, Mr. Ehrlke, unless those guys out front start giving his some protection.

In all Bentley stopped 44 shots, while serving up one of the best netminding exhibitions seen at the east end Palace de Rock since the days of George Hainsworth, Bill Lord and more puck-blockers of the original Western Canada league.

In the last period, alone the boy with the famous hockey name turned aside 20 drives.

After one break checking, during which he robbed Gordon Watt and Doug Anderson in quick succession, the partisan crowd very near the roof line found its own voice for the Cap goal.

Flyers spotted the baremnet crew a 2-0 lead in less than 10 minutes of the campaign, first-half drive from that point on for what was an easy triumph, their 18th in 24 tries.

Winger Roy Hemkiner, a 1964 Gordon Watt (this was Flyers' 10th of the campaign), first-half drive from that point on for what was an easy triumph, their 18th in 24 tries.

As caps went on the Bill Day for an early 2-0 edge, the marksmen were rookie Larry Popin and veteran Vic Miles.

Popin caught the top corner with a backhand in the fourth minute of play to make it 1-0.

At 12:09 Bill Miles came along the ice from well out someone said he was standing at the corner of street and White Avenue, on the south side, but this seems exaggerated. Anyway Ray Frederick, the Flyer cap, looked slightly less than sensational on the play.

At this stage Flyers were playing like a lot of guys who hadn't been introduced. It seemed Caps, who were rookie Larry Popin and veteran Vic Miles.

Fighter Velez Is Versatile Character

In a 5,000-word communique to press and radio last night, the Arnold Dickson-Jack Berry-Frank Cockrell boxing combine disclosed several points of interest concerning Joey Velez, a fairly tough character from Spokane who will meet George Dunn in an Edmonton prize-ring next Saturday.

Said points are as follows:
1. He was afflicted with polio as an infant, didn't learn to walk until he was five years old. Velez used crutches and wore a steel brace for five additional years, and because he wasn't permitted to participate in other sports, turned to boxing when he was able to travel under his own steam.

2. He cannot dance around the ring due to his left leg being shorter than the right. To counterbalance this handicap, a Spokane sucker has had to develop a punch.

3. That punch is fairly lethal. It has been brought to bear with considerable authority on the anatomies of such good little men as Keith Nuttall, Joe Greig, Joey Clemo, Will Desjardins, Ernie Kemick, Buddy Sloan, Harold Dade, and last Buddy Washington.

4. He has a reputation for never losing re-match. Second-ranking lightweight John L. Datto Velez 18 months ago, that bout marking the latter's last defeat. This year he flattened Carlos Chavez, the world's fourth-ranked lightweight.

5. Velez has never been knocked out in 100 amateur and 39 pro bouts, has been knocked on his pants three times. In 1947 he was the national lightweight title in American Amateur Union-sponsored competition, and was crowned Northwest lightweight king after conquering Joey Dolan two years ago.

6. In 1949 he was acclaimed Spokane's athlete of the year, marking the first time that the honor has been conferred upon a pro. For relaxation, Velez paints sketches, and has turned this talent into a thriving art business in Spokane.

Velez will arrive here today or tomorrow to wait up training for the Spokane skirmish.

What a Beautiful Day

Sent this telegram to Santa Claus today: Just send us 100 days like yesterday and never mind the neckties.

See where one Edmonton restaurant is advertising that it doesn't play Christmas music. I'd say off-hand that's a pretty nice Christmas present in itself.

Something I certainly can do without at Christmas: More recipes for Denver sandwiches.

A war veteran now serving in the RCAF here needs a home. His name is Ralph Dakin. He's been living in one of those California trailers with his wife and baby girl, Heather Dorothy, of five months.

The trailer is nice and airy—for California, where it belongs—and about big enough for two full-grown rabbits who have no children.

Mrs. Dakin says she had to scrape ice off the walls in that last cold snap.

Now that's no place for a war veteran and his family to be living.

The airman is able to pay up to $50 a month for a decent, warm place.

I know there are kind-hearted landlords in Edmonton. Any that can help out this family please give me a ring or write On The Town.

I must give an extra nod to Marie Lee of the inoculation clinic for going to bat for the family.

Edmonton firemen better line up for a whole bunch of orchids.

I think it's really wonderful the way the fire laddies have responded to an appeal from the cerebral palsy clinic.

Firemen have volunteered to drive the clinic bus without pay on their own time. This means that night shift firemen go right to work, (without breakfast, if necessary) to drive kiddies to the clinic for treatment.

The fire laddies work in pairs. The job amounts to a full day's work for the drivers.

The clinic has allowed $60 per month for a driver. Firemen are turning this back for the purchase of needed wheel chairs and walkers. That's the true spirit of Christmas, don't you think?

Remember John Pike, who retired recently as inspector for board of grain commissioners?

Well Mr. Pike has bought himself a big trailer down in sunny California and is rolling around there some time. He plans to trailer up this way next year some time.

M. J. Conacher, of the grain commissioners, has passed this information over to many thanks.

We haven't found Goldie yet. Wonder where that dog can be?

A lucky goodnight to all and especially to people who are trying to find decent homes to live in.

1,000 Pay Tribute To Anti-Red Chieftain

Over 1,000 attended a memorial service Sunday evening in the Strand theatre in honor of General Taras Chuprynka, former anti-Red chief who died commanding the Ukrainian Insurgent Army in Europe.

Weekly movie programs are now scheduled for seven communities resident in the Edmonton Federation.

This week the schedule is as follows: Monday evening, Central League; Tuesday, Riverside; Wednesday, North Edmonton; Thursday, Forest Heights; Friday, Ritchie and McKernan and Saturday night, Colborne League.

Arrangements are being handled by the education committee of the federation headed by B. Hager.

Fire Destroys Farm Buildings

First Regional Library System Set for Lacombe

First regional library system in Alberta will be established at Lacombe.

This was announced today by Blake MacKenzie, secretary of the Alberta Library Board.

The plan will provide reading material to residents of outlying areas, Mr. MacKenzie said.

12 LIBRARIES

At the present time 12 association libraries are in operation in the Lacombe area, and this number may eventually be increased to 15 with libraries in towns, villages and hamlets and schools.

Under the new plan, even the most remote library in Alberta can have almost immediate access to an unlimited number of books. If the desired book is not available from the nearest library then headquarters at Lacombe will be contacted.

News of Soldier Son's Death Overtakes Mother On Train

A Quebec mother who had spent many hours at the bedside of her son in Edmonton, hoping and praying he would recover, was confident as she travelled home Saturday that her prayers had been answered.

But the serene look on her face changed to grief when her train neared Melville, Sask., on the eastward journey. Railway officials advised her that her son died suddenly at 7:20 a.m. (MST).

He was Gunner David Owen, of Gimney, Que., who had been dangerously ill following the Nov. 21 canoe river, B.C. train collision.

TOLL NOW 21
His passing raised the train wreck toll to 21.

Mrs. E. T. Owen, the 19-year-old soldier's mother, had left his bedside Friday night to return home and wait for the day he would join the family once again.

She had been with him as he slowly recovered from severe stomach burns.

First she was going to fly home Friday night, but changed her mind because of fog and took the train. Shortly before lunch time, she received the shocking news.

Hospital authorities said Gunner Owen died of burns.

The regional library board plans to hire a librarian who will supervise the entire system through-out the province.

The regional library will be operated by funds received by the association from school boards and municipalities. Financial aid also will come from individual personal support and already established grants.

Wage Boosts Blamed For City Deficit

Edmonton was $164,023 "in the hole" on operations for first nine months of 1950, due largely to general increases for civic employees and employees of contracting firms doing city work.

Total 12-month cost of retroactive salary boosts is $466,360, but higher than estimated revenues will take up much of the slack.

In a nine-month report to be presented to city council tonight by Kinnaird, Ayles and Company, city auditors, an apparent deficit of $64,023 is given. But that figure does not include retroactive salary adjustments agreed to but not paid at Sept. 30.

DEFICIT UP

Approximately $100,000 remained chargeable to the nine months, which brought the deficit up to $164,023.

Ken Heacock Vets Head

Ken E. Heacock was elected president of the John North Mounted Police Veterans' Association at a general meeting of "Graves" held recently at RCMP headquarters here.

He was fined 15 cents.

HOUSING SOLUTION

you come to the top, plug up the little hole with the "key-stone."

Of course, every Edmo worth its salt, will build from the inside. Therefore when the igloo is nearly completed, the builders are trapped inside.

All that remains to be done is to knock a hole in the wall and another little hole somewhere near the top for ventilation. The igloo is ready and, by that time, you will be ready too—for a good night's sleep.

A weather forecast may help or mislead as the amateur igloo.

Business Men Seek OK On Underground Garage

A 120-car underground parking garage immediately east of Macdonald hotel tower will be built by a group of Edmonton business men if city council approves.

Tonight's council meeting will consider a letter from Gordon F. McCleary and Harold W. Spence outlining the group's minimum $300,000 plan for the project.

Firm Asks Land To Build Plant

City council tonight will consider a proposal by a group of Edmonton business men to construct a 120-car underground parking garage just east of the Macdonald Hotel tower on Jasper avenue.

2. Be asked to approve sale of 274 acres of land on Kingsway Industrial site, 500 to 120 street south of 114 avenue, to an undisclosed international corporation and prepare to build a $350,000 to $380,000 building to employ 20 to 30 workers. Price is usual $5,000 an acre.

3. Approve requisition for $127,760 worth of telephone cable and 100 man-hours of service to Inglewood, Westmount, King Edward Park, Windsor Park and Capital Hill.

4. Consider giving Royal Trust Company assurance it can buy the Macdonald Hotel tower for a five-story office building to be built there.

Stout Safe Forks Burglars

Safercrackers were active in the city early Sunday for the sixth time in 11 days but a heavy snow on Sunday morning prevented their efforts.

The men entered the building at 100 avenue and attempted to force the front door. Manager Reg V. Paul found the door knocked off the safe and an attempt made to punch out the window. Part of a steel panel was removed and the safe was found embedded in the apartment.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Junior Shopper Picks Presents for Family

By Bea Thrifty

Sweet young things and kind-hearted grannies... and all these "n" ages of girls in between look forward to Father Christmas' Dec. 25 visit.

They specially look forward to gifts from the "men in their lives"... whether it's father, son, grandson, husband, brother or best beau.

And the fellas have a hard task at the Merry Yuletide.

They have to prove just how thoughtful, how understanding... and how ingenious they can be in the world of gift selection.

So busy Bea is throwing her handful of ideas into the pot...

Saturday we gave the wives a bit of a chance at things... and today let's help the Beau Brummels of the kindergarten set with their gift-buying for Mom, grandmother, almost-grown-up sister.

And that's a task 'n' a half, indeed!

Young 'un can march downtown with a shiny fifty-cent piece and buy his pretty Mom three elegant hat-pins and a gay little cushion to house them.

Or even a velvet pincushion, well-fitted with plain pins will be a treat for his busy "favorite lady."

Then again he might invest in hard-saved cents in a pair of pretty towelling scarves for Mom to wear after-the-bath.

He might invest in a bright-shaded plastic watering pot for Mom's much beloved house plants.

Yet another scheme is to inveigle Granny into giving him a piece of trued ivory or other vine plant to put in an earth-filled little red clay pot for the kitchen window.

He can buy the pot in green, red, yellow or cream for 19c... or buy a bigger one at prices way up to a dollar bill.

To house ivy plants there are gay little copper pots swinging from shining chains at $1.98; plastic umbrellas at 39c; squat pottery baskets at 69c; log-shaped pottery selling at 59c.

For his granny he's specially chosen a plastic odds-'n-ends box of gay-patterned chintz for 39c.

Just-about-grown-up sister deserves a social pretty in the way of a gay little scarf to knot about the neckline of her sweaters.

Small scarves, just for this purpose, sell anywhere from 39c upward.

If he's a young man of interest in feminine affairs he might buy a prettily packaged bottle of sister's favorite nail lacquer at anywhere from 25c up to $1.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Careful Check Is Kept On Your Baby's Weight

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Every mother is concerned chiefly with the question: How is my baby doing?

She is told once a month or less often by her pediatrician... but she must have some way of satisfying herself that all is progressing as it should.

One of the best methods of determining a baby's progress is to weigh him once weekly. For this there should be a balance scales and a container in which he may be placed naked.

But barring this the mother will have to do the best she can with a bathroom scales or even a weighing at the corner grocery. For the first she will rig up a container and weigh it, then put the baby in and compute the difference in weight.

Old-Timers Mark Golden Wedding With Family Party

Two of grandchildren clambered to the knees of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith yesterday when Golden Anniversary celebrations were held for the old-time couple.

Married in Yorkville in 1900, the Smiths came to Canada in 1906 and settled in Edmonton in 1908.

After a thirteen-year stint in overseas service, Arthur Smith, retired from the army, and his family have been in the city since 1945.

Neighbors, family and friends gathered yesterday between 2 and 5 p.m. to honor the couple. Two sons, Frank of Boyle and Louis of Edmonton, helped their parents mark the gala occasion.

And three grandchildren, Jean, Ronald and Alan came from Boyle specially to wish their favorite grandparents a happy anniversary.

Each week mark the golden anniversary of the Smiths.

WHY GROW OLD

Hurry and Excitement Are Intrinsic Part of Holiday

By Josephine Lowman

You'd better be careful or the old men Hecticness and Fatigue will get you and you won't be able to enjoy Christmas when it comes.

A bit of dash and hurry and excitement are an intrinsic part of the holiday season, but too often the woman who has done most of the shopping finds herself looking tired and feeling bedraggled when she wants to be most vibrant and lovely.

Do not feel that you cannot take time out for that manicure and hair fixing and remember that you will have to make your appointments early.

During this period when you are overworked and losing sleep, give your skin special care with only lubricating creams. Be sure to use your eye cream at night because lines of fatigue appear quickly about the eyes.

Also remember those wonderful pickup masks which most cosmetic houses sell. You can also give yourself a pickup treatment right at home with honey products. Make a paste of almond meal (which you can buy at any drugstore) and too thick but give enough not to run.

Relax in your bath and give yourself that good rubbing with a rough towel. File your nails with an emery board before getting into the tub. After your bath cleanse your face thoroughly and apply the almond meal paste. While you wait for the mask to dry you can lie down for more rest or take this time for completing your mania.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Woman Would Leave Home For Unemployed Dancer

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Can you help a very unhappy woman? I am 35 years old with three small children.

My husband is a good man and a good provider, but he isn't at all lively and gay. After work he just sits down and reads the newspaper while I love to go out dancing. Last week I went to a dance with a friend and met a fellow of 25 with whom I have fallen violently in love. He has no job, but I could always get my old one back at my former office. He wants me to run away with him and I am tempted to do so. Do you think I could be happy with him away from my babies? Please help me, I don't know which way to turn.

BEWILDERED.

ANSWER: When a married woman with a good husband, a good home and children gets a brain-storm that makes her even contemplate throwing them in the discard for a boy without a penny to his name, she needs to have her head examined.

Put your husband and children and home and place in society and your comfortable living on the scales and weigh them against disgrace, poverty, the loss of your children, with only the compensation of having somebody to dance with.

Dodd's Kidney Pills

Do not feel that you cannot take time out for that manicure and hair fixing and remember that you will have to make your appointments early.

During this period when you are overworked and losing sleep, give your skin special care with only lubricating creams. Be sure to use your eye cream at night because lines of fatigue appear quickly about the eyes.

Also remember those wonderful pickup masks which most cosmetic houses sell. You can also give yourself a pickup treatment right at home with honey products. Make a paste of almond meal (which you can buy at any drugstore) and too thick but give enough not to run.

Relax in your bath and give yourself that good rubbing with a rough towel. File your nails with an emery board before getting into the tub. After your bath cleanse your face thoroughly and apply the almond meal paste. While you wait for the mask to dry you can lie down for more rest or take this time for completing your mania.

Soprano Denies Dream Theme Of Golden Opportunity

"There is nothing in radio for the serious newcomer."

This is the opinion of Eileen Farrell, named one of the greatest dramatic sopranos of all time, who visited in Edmonton this morning following her concert in McDougall United Church Friday.

"For a young singer looking to concert work in New York," said Miss Farrell, "television has made less the field of good music."

Miss Farrell, who was born in Connecticut grew up with music. Her mother was her first teacher. Just before the last war she went to New York to study seriously, and it was there she attracted criticism by critics and accorded superior rating.

Following concerts this week in Red Deer and Lethbridge Miss Farrell will make fast tracks home to spend Christmas with her husband and small son Robbie.

Shopping Tastes Vary From Coast to Coast

Canadians have varying tastes in shopping as they do in double-breasted blazers and flying boots.

According to a recent Canadian Press survey, people shop in local patterns. And this is expensive to both manufacturers and shoppers.

In Ontario, British Columbia and Newfoundland housewives buy their groceries either Friday or Saturday. It's Friday in Quebec, and Saturday in the Maritimes and on the prairies.

Chain stores and super-markets flourish in direct relation to their distance from the city for shopping peaks inland. But even this is not a uniform pattern.

In Ontario, for instance, 77 per cent of the French-speaking population favors independent stores while only 44 per cent of English-speaking people do.

Maritimes buy twice as much of one kind of shortening per person as the prairies. The Maritimes and Quebec use eight and five times respectively as much of one kind of coffee per person as does the rest of Canada.

LIKE GELATIN

British Columbia uses 35 per cent more unflavored gelatin; Quebec uses double the volume of indulgence remedies; blanded cigarettes.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

As I told you in the story yesterday, just as Uncle Wiggily in Hollow Tree School was ready to tell a Christmas story, there sounded a loud knocking noise at the door.

Just as Foebe, Wollie and Bobbie started to open the door, the door opened by itself. Or, rather, it was opened by Mr. Muttus Coker, the first gentleman in Hollow Tree School.

"Excuse me, Miss Mouse," said Mr. Coker. "But down in my furnace cellar I could not help hearing Uncle Wiggily talk about a Christmas story he is going to tell. Please may I listen?"

"Of course you may, Mr. Coker," said the rabbit gentleman.

"Now, if you please, listen to Uncle Wiggily's story about the Christmas Chimney. Begin, please, Uncle Wiggily," said Miss Mouse.

So the rabbit gentleman began: "Once upon a time there was a big chimney on a big house in which lived many girls and boys. And in winter, when the fire was glowing bright and warm much smoke used to come out of the chimney.

"Next to the house was a tall tree. The tree could look right down into the chimney which stuck up above the roof of the house. And when December, the Christmas month came, the tree said to the chimney:

"I hope you do not puff out much smoke on the night of December 24. That would be too bad."

"Why should I be too busy?" asked the chimney.

"The night of December 24 is Christmas Eve," replied the tree. "That's when Santa Claus comes down the chimney. But if he sees a lot of smoke coming from your chimney, he will not come."

"I will watch my smoke, Mr. Tree," the chimney answered.

"Did he?" asked Jackie Bow. "I will watch my smoke, Mr. Tree," the chimney answered.

"Yes, Jackie, he did," answered Mr. Lonsdale. "On Christmas Eve Mr. Chimney didn't smoke at all. The way was clear for Santa Claus. So he climbed down the chimney. He decorated the Christmas tree. He put presents on it and under it and in stockings and on Christmas Day everyone in the big house was happy. That's the end of my story. And now we are going to have a story from Foebe."

But for that story we shall have to wait until tomorrow. I will tell you then if the puppy dog will put the puppy cat in the doll carriage and give her a ride around the kitchen sink.

Potential killers lurk in every medicine cabinet—often without a "Danger" or "Poison" label to identify them—and utmost care should be taken to keep them from the hands of small children.

Majority of poisonings cases involve children and, as often as not, death occurs before a physician can reach the scene and apply first aid. Wise parents should take double precaution to prevent such tragedies.

In the first place, all medicinal compounds—even milder laxatives and cough syrups—should be stored in a safe place.

SHOULD BE TAUGHT

Secondly, young children who can't read should be taught the meaning of the "skull and crossed bones" labels which appear on all potent poison containers, such as iodine.

Some laxatives are dangerous poisons, others are mild poisons, while some, like mineral oil, can produce severe internal disorder if taken in quantities.

In some cases, children are poisoned while playing doctor, nurse and patient by securing "real medicine" for the patient.

An emetic, consisting of soap suds, salt water or mustard, is the most effective remedy when too much laxative has been swallowed. This must be done quickly, before the laxative reaches the intestines.

Physician should be called at once when any dangerous substance is involved.

In the meantime, whites of eggs, olive oil or milk should be given in quantities to provide a coating for internal tissues.

This is particularly effective in cases of caustic poisoning when some weak acid such as diluted vinegar, or tartaric acid may be added to the eggs or milk.

NEVER give emetics in such cases. The doctor will do so if he believes that the stomach can be emptied without injuring burning tissues of throat or stomach.

Children should never be allowed to play in rooms where caustic materials are stored. Even a fall in a container of caustic solution will produce severe skin burns.

WASH SKIN OFF

If caustic solutions are spilled on the skin, wash thoroughly with water and vinegar or lemon juice, and again in water.

Bulletin Safety Club members will find the question in the safety rule printed below.

Contrast will close Saturday, Dec. 16 and members who have answered all 11 questions correctly will be eligible for the grand prizes, including skates, skis and crocheted boards.

A question is printed every day in the Bulletin.

Keep all question coupons until you have 11 before bringing, or mailing them, to the Bulletin office.

New Drug Said to Relieve Pain From Stomach Ulcers

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 11.—(AP)—A drug that blocks nerve messages is showing good results in relieving pain from stomach ulcers, and in avoiding or deferring operation for ulcers, a surgeon has reported.

The drug is bethidine. It blocks transmission of nerve impulses that cause spasms in the stomach and cause pain.

Dr. Keith S. Grimson of Duke University told the American Medical Association Saturday of a study started 21 months ago on 120 patients.

Sixty-two of the people had signs, such as pain, bleeding and vomiting, indicating need for surgery, he said. Ten of the latter had to have operations, after getting the drug over a six month period.

But of the other 58 in this group, 50 continued to get complete relief from pain, 23 had satisfactory relief, and nine had brief relief.

There were 38 patients who did not seem to need operation. Twenty-four are getting complete relief from pain, 12 satisfactory relief, and two have had brief relief.

The drug can cause unwanted effects—drowsiness, constipation, bladder relaxation, and dilated pupils—Dr. Grimson said.
